HAPPY 4th of JULY!!

The 4th of July is commonly associated with fireworks, parades, barbecues, carnivals, fairs, picnics, concerts, baseball games, family reunions, political speeches, ceremonies and other events celebrating our independence.

This year, due to COVID-19, Independence Day will have to be celebrated in different ways: virtual family reunions, re-runs of concerts and baseball games, socially distant barbecues. Enjoy the day, no matter how different it may look this year!

OUR EXPERIENCES

We asked our employees to put down some of their thoughts and experiences on COVID-19, sheltering-in-place, working from home and rocking our masks (all made by Linda!).

"We must be willing to let go of the life we planned so as to have the life that is waiting for us."

The benefit of COVID-19 for me was slowing down, being able to work, appreciate & spend time at home with family. The non-benefit of the COVID-19 is the worry & limitation.

- Paula

For me, it is caused a lot of anxiety at first because it was scary that we had no control over anything that's going on in the world and are being told by the people trying to take care of us what to do, what's safe and what's not. However, I appreciate our leaders who are guiding us through these unprecedented times. I appreciated everyone's quick actions to innovate and to be creative in a time when we could rarely leave our houses. It also forced me to take a long hard look at how prepared we are financially for something like this and also what's really important in life and what I can/cannot live without. I look forward to a time when I can tell my grandkids about all of this someday and how we overcame a pandemic as a united world front!

- Ron

I think we were all moving a little to fast in life. I've enjoyed the down time with my husband and kids. Its been nice not having to run around from school event to sporting event. I do miss concerts and baseball. The uncertainty of when this will all end keeps me up at night.

- Marci

I think it helped us all slow down, I'm thankful for the time COVID gave us to reflect and spend time with our families (good and bad, lol). I think it gave us good practice at getting comfortable with things that are unknown and not comfortable. I do feel like we all gained some kind of strength from it.

- Shannon
